Recording, Radio, Film Connection & CASA Schools Catalog Addendum Michigan - Effective June 01, 2023

Douglas Rathje

Faculty/Faculty/Academic Facilitator Recording Connection

Bachelor of Arts, Music Business & Audio Design & Production, Columbia College Chicago, Chicago, IL

Dougy Rathje is an artist, music producer, audio engineer and sound designer who graduated from Columbia College Chicago with bachelor's degrees in both Music Business and Audio Design & Production. He's produced multiple albums under his own name and for some of Chicago's most talented up-and-coming artists. He's placed music in video games such as NBA 2K21, created soundtracks for numerous independent films, and worked as a freelance audio engineer and producer for artists around the world. As a Faculty/Academic Facilitator, Dougy is passionate about helping every student he works with move beyond the phases of "searching for answers" and "not knowing" to getting going by doing, creating, and integrating their knowledge as they evolve and build careers in music and sound.

Otto Schatz

Academic Facilitator Recording Connection

Bachelor of Arts in Music Production and Composition, Bennington College, Bennington, VT

Otto Schatz has been passionate about music for as long as they can remember. Born in Brooklyn, their father was instrumental in providing a diverse palette of genres and styles to listen to at an early age that instilled a desire to explore that drives them to this day. They explored basic guitar playing during the tail end of high school, but once they took a Recording & Mixing Music class at Bennington College, Otto was hooked into the world of production completely. They first got started using Pro Tools to learn multi-tracking, microphone placement, and signal flow to achieve proper and balanced recordings for a quality mix. Later in their studies, Otto was introduced to Ableton Live which became their primary means of producing and composing. Being directly influenced by Extreme Metal, Industrial Noise, Ambient and Electronic Music, Ableton allowed for the audio manipulation workflow that they needed to actualize their creative voice to explore darker, and sometimes ethereal, soundscapes. Otto worked as a Recording Studio Assistant for their school's regular studio and electronic studio where they tutored fellow students and made sure the studios were running efficiently. This role also gave them experience doing live sound for school events and live performances. Outside of college, Otto worked at a recording studio in New York City and has collaborated with various artists in different disciplines. Doing original compositions and sound design, they have worked doing short films, dance, theater, podcasts, and a video game next to production work for other musicians and their own compositions. After they earned their bachelor's degree in Music Composition and Production, Otto moved to Washington State to further pursue their dark take on Ambient music and find more potential artistic collaborators.

Alexander Solis

Faculty/Academic Facilitator Recording Connection and Radio Connection

Bachelor of Science, Major in Music Production, Full Sail University, Winter Park, FL

Alex Solis is an artist, producer, audio engineer, songwriter and vocalist from Los Angeles. Alex attended a post-secondary school where he earned his Bachelor of Science in Music Production. Since then, Alex has composed a number of original sound scores for indie films, and he recently completed a pilot for the show American Guitar, serving as co-composer of original music as well as manning the tracking of voice overs. He's passionate about sharing his knowledge and helping guide today's rising talents in engineering and production.

Recording, Radio, Film Connection & CASA Schools Catalog Addendum

Michigan - Effective June 01, 2023

Cory Titov

Academic Facilitator Recording Connection
Certificate in Audio Engineering from the Los Angeles Recording School
Los Angeles, CA

Corey Titov has played the drums and piano since his youth. When his dad bought the first Fruity Loops and Rebirth DAW's, he took to technology immediately and was producing tracks by the time he reached middle school. From playing drums to doing live shows, to becoming a top ten contender as a battle DJ, music has always been a constant in Corey's life. Since graduating from college, Corey has worked at several recording studios with numerous artists including Rocstar, Genevieve Jackson (Michael Jackson's niece), and AC Burrell who is signed to Lady Gaga's manager. Not one to say no to a challenge, Corey even helped build the studio where Kesha, Future, and Lex Luger recorded. Thanks to the ample connections he's built in music licensing, he's placed his music production with powerhouses such as Disney, UFC, BMG, Lifetime, Fox, CBS, and Lions Gate, and many more. He currently has countless cues on TV Show's airing all over the world and counts himself as blessed and fortunate to have the talent and drive to do great work.

Alejandro (Alex) Torres IV

Faculty/Academic Facilitator Recording Connection
Bachelor of Science, Audio Engineering Technology, University of Hartford, West Hartford, CT

Alex Torres is an audio engineer and hip hop artist from Hartford, Connecticut. He graduated Magna Cum Laude from The University of Hartford with a Bachelor of Science degree in Audio Engineering Technology. He later founded HKE Studios where he procured placements engineering for artists like Akon and many others. With a lot of real-world experience and erudite book smarts, Alex looks forward to helping up-and-coming engineers, beat makers, artists, and producers excel in Recording Connection and gain the insight and knowledge it takes to be a professional in today's multifaceted music industry.

Samuel Zulfer

Faculty/Faculty/Academic Facilitator Recording Connection
Bachelor of Arts-Major- Audio Design and Production; Minor-Management, Columbia College Chicago, Chicago, IL

Chicago-born native Samuel Zulfer has had a passion for music all his life. His love for EDM only fueled his fascination with using the latest digital technologies to create soul-stirring dance music. During his time studying at Columbia College Chicago in their Audio Design & Production department, Sam further developed his studio recording and mixing talents and in-depth knowledge of mic uses and techniques. While Sammy continued to advance in his skills as an electronic music producer, he made the jump from Reason into Ableton. When Sam isn't working on his own unique music as BigSammyZ and is deeply committed to empowering today's creatives with the solid skills and real world insight they need to succeed.
